Examiner - Inspector Summary

General Reasoning (Cognitive)

Slower Processing
Accepts Simple & Repetitive Work

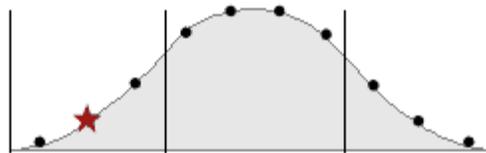

Faster Processing
Needs Intellectual Challenge

- Tom learns new information very quickly which is often very useful for examiners or inspectors
- At times Tom may be seen as too quick to act by those who do not process information as quickly
- Can easily become bored if the job does not require continual learning and complex problem solving

Question: Describe a time when you thought you were going to be able to work on some exciting projects but were stuck doing mundane tasks every day. What did you do?

Conscientious (Organization)

Carefree
Impulsive

Detail Oriented
Dependable

- Tom may allow details to be overlooked but can generally compensate for lack of detail orientation with faster processing speed
- Generally responds well to interruptions and unexpected requests even if they are complex
- Generally prefers to be in a reactionary or problem solving role rather than to plan and be thorough with details

Question: Tell about a time when you forgot some important details of a project. How did you handle that?

Tough Minded

Cooperative
Agreeable

Direct
Determined

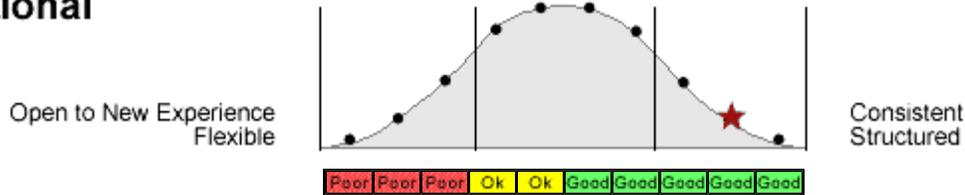

- Tends to be tough minded and skeptical which can be helpful in inspections and examinations
- Well suited for roles where Tom is likely to face confrontation and able to take action without direction

- Generally comfortable making decisions

Question: Tell me about a time when you became stubborn because your boss or the customer disagreed with your approach to a case. How did you deal with the situation and how did it turn out?

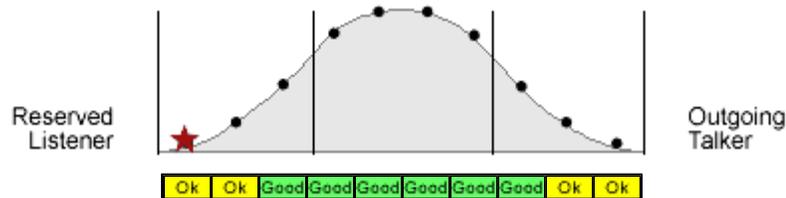

Conventional (Rules)

- Tom tends to be consistent and follow the procedures closely, an important characteristic for jobs involving enforcement of laws, regulations, or inspection policies
- Prefers an environment that is structured and predictable
- May have some difficulty working in an environment where requests are often unique and unexpected

Question: Describe a time when some major changes in regulations, policies, or procedures were being implemented. Did you find it difficult to keep up? What was it like?

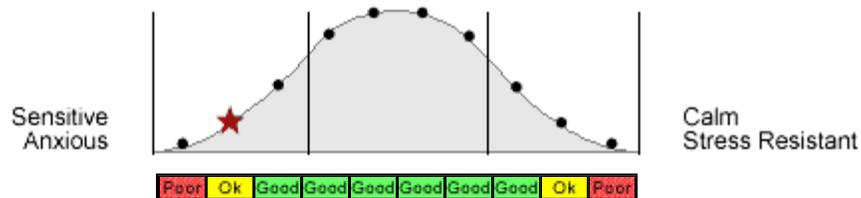

Extroversion

- Tom tends to be reserved and quiet and prefer low to moderate interaction with others
- Tom is typically a good listener and doesn't mind working alone which can be helpful in some examiner roles
- Better suited for a position that doesn't require continual interaction with others

Question: Tell me about a time when you had to make a presentation before several people in a meeting. What was it like?

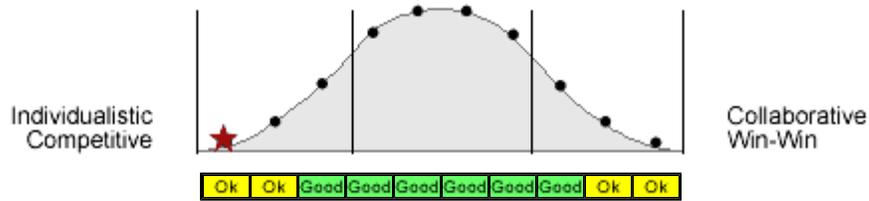

Stable

- Tom tends to feel stress sooner than others in similar circumstances
- Tom likely to become stressed in a highly demanding and fast-paced environment
- Better suited for a calm environment where Tom can work at own pace with few, if any, deadlines

Question: Describe a time when you felt that your company was unnecessarily pushing its staff too hard. How did you handle the stress?

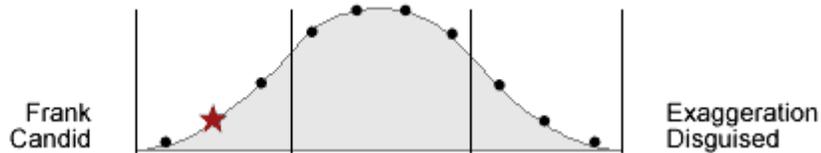

Team

- Tom is typically self-motivated and very competitive
- May have difficulty working within a team
- May not be collaborative with internal team or co-workers

Question: Give me an example of a time when you had to pick up the slack for someone else and you did not receive credit for it. What was that like?

Good Impression (Social Desirability)

- Tom's responses have been frank and open
