

Date: Jul 13, 2008

Name: Tom Tester
ID: 295689

Supervisor Summary

General Reasoning (Cognitive)

Slower Processing
Accepts Simple & Repetitive Work

Faster Processing
Needs Intellectual Challenge

- From a cognitive speed standpoint and with experience and development, Tom may be better suited for executive level positions that require strategic thinking rather than those that need a day-to-day supervisor of details and people
- Tom typically learns new information very quickly and is able to solve complex problems
- May not take the time to fully explain things to others which means Tom often assumes that others can easily see the solution or bigger picture
- Can easily become bored if the job does not require continual learning and complex problem solving

Question: Tell me about a time when you had to manage people who were doing fairly mundane tasks every day. What was that like?

Conscientious (Organization)

Carefree
Impulsive

Detail Oriented
Dependable

- Tom's faster learning speed can allow for big picture and creative thinking
- Easy going nature may cause Tom to overlook important details especially if those details are routine and rudimentary in nature

Question: Describe a time when you failed to meet a deadline because of a lack of planning. What did you do?

Tough Minded

Cooperative
Agreeable

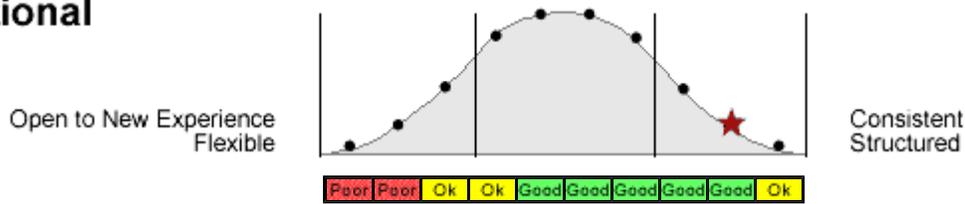

Direct
Determined

- Tom is usually comfortable directing the work of others
- At times, Tom may be viewed as pushy and confrontational
- Tends to be tough minded but capable of dealing with difficult situations
- At times can be autocratic and unlikely to solicit ideas from subordinates

Question: In managing, it's frequently important to have trust in your employees. Can you think about an instance when you were able to trust an employee and it paid off?

Conventional (Rules)

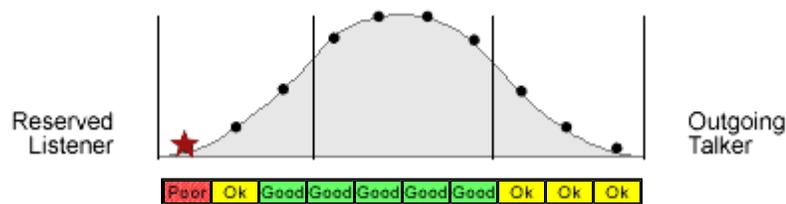

Tom prefers a structured working environment and will likely try to use faster learning speed to create new processes for strategic improvement

- Tends to be consistent and follow a process closely

Question: Describe a time when you had to implement several major changes quickly within your team. How did you do it?

Extroversion

- Tends to be reserved and quiet and better suited for supervisory situations that don't require a high level of enthusiasm or expressiveness

- Tom quiet nature may have allowed for the development of good listening skills

- Employees may find Tom to be withdrawn and seemingly unavailable or uninterested in them

- It is critical that Tom recognize that often one of the skills of being a good supervisor can be the ability to be enthusiastic with employees to keep them motivated

Question: Give me an example of a time when you were not able to effectively motivate your team to do something. What could you have done differently?

Stable

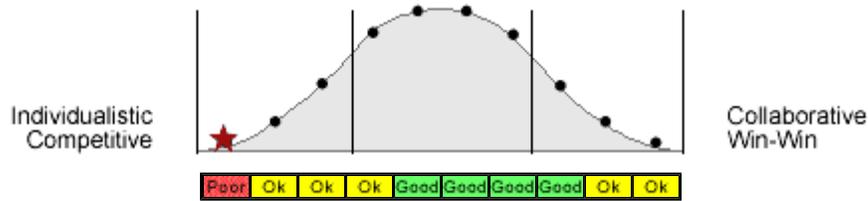

- Tom may have an exaggerated sense of urgency leading to feelings of stress more quickly than others

- Will typically be more sensitive to customer and employee needs

- May become defensive or irritable when under extreme pressure

Question: Give me an example of a time when you were able to stay calm even though you were under a great deal of stress to get something done quickly. How did you handle it?

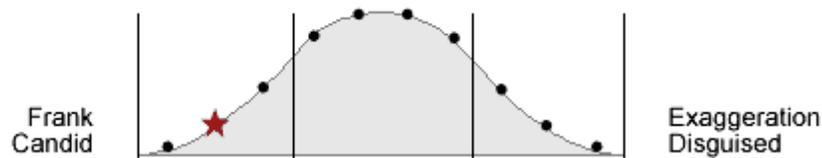

Team

- Tom is typically self-motivated and very competitive
- At times, Tom may not be collaborative with internal team or co-workers
- Important for Tom to develop good skills for motivating and managing employees who are team oriented and motivated by team rewards

Question: Give me an example of a time when you became frustrated because you were not being given credit for your accomplishments. What did you do?

Good Impression (Social Desirability)

- Tom's responses have been frank and open

*The participant has scored in the "red zone" in 2 areas.

Overall
61% *

Note: This report represents only a small part of the factors that can be helpful in determining job performance. It is not designed to specifically recommend or not recommend any individual for employment and the ultimate employment decision rests with the Employer.

Date: Jul 13, 2008

Name: Tom Tester
ID: 295689

Supervisor Interview Questions

General Reasoning (Cognitive)

Question: Describe a time when you became frustrated because your team just didn't seem to get the big picture and therefore did not seem to really understand your strategy. What did you do?

Question: Give me an example of a time when you had an employee who kept making the same mistakes over and over again. How did you deal with it?

Question: Tell me about a time when you had to manage people who were doing fairly mundane tasks every day. What was that like?

Conscientious (Organization)

Question: Tell me about a time when you became impatient with a situation and made a decision before you had all the facts. What happened?

Question: Give me an example of how your carefree nature helped you in a stressful situation.

Question: Describe a time when you failed to meet a deadline because of a lack of planning. What did you do?

Tough Minded

Question: Describe a time when you got into an argument with an employee. What was the situation?

Question: Tell me about a situation when you had to be patient with someone in order to get them to do things the way you wanted them. How did you do it?

Question: In managing, it's frequently important to have trust in your employees. Can you think about an instance when you were able to trust an employee and it paid off?

Conventional (Rules)

Question: Tell me about a time when you created a process or structure that helped your department become more efficient. What was the situation?

Question: Give me an example of a time when you had to deal with an employee who was inconsistent and did not follow policies. What did you do?

Question: Describe a time when you had to implement several major changes quickly within your team. How did you do it?

Extroversion

Question: Give me an example of a time when you were not able to effectively motivate your team to do something. What could you have done differently?

Question: Tell me about a time when you had to present something to your team and you knew that it was critical to get their buy in. How did it turn out?

Question: Describe a time when your listening ability really paid off with an employee. What was the situation?

Stable

Question: Tell me about a time when you worked in a very stressful environment with lots of deadlines. How did you deal with the stress?

Question: Give me an example of a time when you became angry with an employee and had to go away and regain your cool before approaching them. What was the situation?

Question: Dealing with others as a manager can make a person impatient or irritable. When this happens to you, how do you deal with situations like that?

Team

Question: Give me an example of a time when you became frustrated because you were not being given credit for your accomplishments. What did you do?

Question: Tell me about a time when one of your employees was doing an incredible job. What did you do to reward them and what would you do differently in the future?

Question: Sometimes when you're working in a team, one or more of the team members are not pulling their weight. How did you deal with that situation?

Note: This report represents only a small part of the factors that can be helpful in determining job performance. It is not designed to specifically recommend or not recommend any individual for employment and the ultimate employment decision rests with the Employer.

© 2008 Psychometrics International